PLAY YOUR PART

On stage and back stage, as creative and technical crews and audiences and students, teachers and investors, we all play a part in Australia's performing arts industry.

The arts nurture Australian talent, build a rich cultural life in Australian communities and provide a way to explore our society and grow our economy.

Play your part in showing Government, philanthropists and business that the millions of people who attend and participate in the arts value their contribution.

Join the We All Play a Part campaign.

If we are to have a creative and imaginative Australia in the 21st century, it is important we recognise and invest in our talent, our creative infrastructure and make the best of Australian work accessible to all.
